Engineering Times, October 2004, p.21

Color profile: Disabled

Tuesday, September 14, 2004 3:58:48 PM

Firm Helps Workers Buy First Homes

For the Client

"It sounded like an excellent program..." - National Society of Professional Engineers

---

Waldo-Hancock Bridge Construction

Victor O. Schinnerer & Company Inc. is managing under contract the $38.8 million project to replace the steel girder bridge as well as the replacement bridge is scheduled for completion by the end of 2006.

The Maine Department of Transportation (MDOT) is the project owner, and the project is being part of the Local Program and Area Planning (LPAP) Program.

The bridge is now being reconstructed by the contractor.

As a further incentive, the Illinois Affordable Housing Act (AFH) introduced in 2002, which allows employers to provide funding to employees for first-time home buyer incentives.

Honeywell, the company provided $5,000 for a family of four in the Chicago region.

The first Robinson employee to use the EAH program in the Chicago area could receive $10,000.

The combined state incentives made it a possibility for a family of four in the Chicago region.

Everything you are doing. You will be driving this sale. Your work is now on the line and it is your responsibility to exceed the expectations of every customer. It is your responsibility to exceed the expectations of every customer. It is your responsibility to exceed the expectations of every customer. It is your responsibility to exceed the expectations of every customer.